

Check the Facts

FACTS

Many emotions and actions are set off by our thoughts and interpretations of events, not by the events themselves.

$\textbf{Event} \rightarrow \textbf{Thoughts} \rightarrow \textbf{Emotions}$

Our emotions can also have a big effect on our thoughts about events.

$\textbf{Event} \rightarrow \textbf{Emotion} \rightarrow \textbf{Thoughts}$

Examining our thoughts and checking the facts can help us change our emotions.

HOW TO CHECK THE FACTS

1. Ask: What is the emotion I want to change? (See Emotion Regulation Handout 6: Ways of Describing Emotions.)

2. Ask: What is the event prompting my emotion?

Describe the facts that you observed through your senses. Challenge judgments, absolutes, and black-and-white descriptions. (See Mindfulness Handout 4: Taking Hold of Your Mind: "What" Skills.)

3. Ask: What are my interpretations, thoughts, and assumptions about the event?

Think of other possible interpretations. Practice looking at all sides of a situation and all points of view. Test your interpretations and assumptions to see if they fit the facts.

4. Ask: Am I assuming a threat?

Label the threat. Assess the probability that the threatening event will really occur. Think of as many other possible outcomes as you can.

5. Ask: What's the catastrophe?

Imagine the catastrophe really occurring. Imagine coping well with a catastrophe (through problem solving, coping ahead, or radical acceptance).

6. Ask: Does my emotion and/or its intensity fit the actual facts?

Check out facts that fit each emotion.

Ask Wise Mind.
